Salisbury High School
Salisbury Maryland

Dear Warren,
 I'll never forget the interesting telephone call we had. I'm very sorry I took my angry attitude on you, as we part to various schools. I'll always remember you and your crazy brother Poochie. That George is crazy too. A matter fact your whole family is. I wish you the best life and all of your crazy too. Don't ever forget me travels this summer. And Cly I wish I didn't know phone number when I get

We, the Beacon Staff, hope we have recorded the past events well enough to keep themselves alive for decades to come. With high school days coming to an end and the final closing of Salisbury High School, we pause to look back upon the friends and happiness we have had. Gratefully, we would like to remember those who first treaded Salisbury High's path. Our last year has been one filled with many experiences that we shall never forget. The joys, the sorrows, the fun, the hard work - are all part of our memories. Through the pages of this book, you, the people of the past and present, are represented; without you, this book would have been impossible. As was once said by a very great and outstanding writer, Carl Sandburg, "It is the men and women, boys and girls that give the building a soul of dreams, thoughts and memories." Soon, the halls will be left empty, and classes void of all laughter, chatter and cries.

FOREWORD

In this final edition of the Beacon, we hope to fill your hearts with limitless remembrance of our building, and portray to you through pictures the significance of a wonderful year. The Staff proudly presents to you a book filled with the hope that it will help you to reminisce in the days to come.

ADMINISTRATION

In Dedication

"Continue to strive for excellence," are words spoken by a man who has devoted the better part of his life to the education and welfare of young people.

Not born of a wealthy family, he has experienced the countless hardships and surmounting pressures of our complex society. He is a native of the Eastern Shore of Maryland, born and reared in a small town, Fruitland, lying on the Southern outskirts of Salisbury.

He attended public school at Fruitland Elementary and Salisbury High Schools. Along with his acquaintance to Mr. and Mrs. Chipman his inner desire to achieve inspired him to strive on to higher education.

After high school, he attended Princess Anne Academy, now known as Maryland State College, from there his yearning for knowledge directed his footsteps to the campuses of Morgan State College, where he received his B.S. Degree and then to Pennsylvania State College, where he received his M.S. He did Post-Graduate work at the University of Delaware, University of Connecticut, and Temple University. Being a very talented and well-rounded individual he also studied voice at the Washington Conservatory of Music.

Through the years he has been associated with many civic, religious, and educational organizations on local, state, and national levels. He has held the offices of President and Vice-President of the Wicomico County Teachers Credit Union, and Vice-President of the State Elementary Teachers Association. He has held key membership positions in many other organizations: Maryland State P.T.A., Maryland State Teachers Associations, Mental Health Association, Maryland Pioneers Associations, National Association Secondary School Principals and the National Education Association. He served on many state wide panels and he has attended conferences at Middle States Educational Association in Atlantic City, and at N.E.A. Conventions in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He has also been a part of several evaluating committees for elementary and secondary schools.

His religious affairs include lay leader at St. Luke's Methodist Church, trustee of Mt. Calvert Methodist and a Mason. He teaches adult education classes at his church, and is director of the senior choir.

Certainly none of his attributes can be conceived as mere blandishment, for he stands near us daily, as a staunch, dauntless figure for whom no appellation seems necessary. Our gratitude toward this man for his ad-dicted services and his incomparable leadership is much too great to express. But it is our conception that this dedication to Mr. Randolph L. Brooks will make him aware of our willingness to try.

Mr. Randolph L. Brooks

Vice-Principal's Message

To the Class of 1966:

Now that you are about to leave us, no doubt, your minds are filled with the greater responsibilities and more exacting labors that await you in the very near future.

You have made a good beginning under the direction of the administration and your many teachers. We have merely helped you to be able to continue your development, to be responsible citizens, to realize the necessity of good behavior, and to use leisure time in a profitable manner. The result or outcome of all these efforts will be up to you.

As you look back upon your high school days - some good, some bad - each of you will express some sadness. No longer will you see those familiar faces each day. However, greater happiness will come as you chart your future course. You will continue to set your goals and to dream. Since your dreams are such an essential part of your development, I beg you not to lose sight of them. Instead, cling to each dream, and, as the years pass, turn it into a reality.

Because you have striven so faithfully to reach this step in life, I extend to you my best wishes for a successful future.

W. F. Waller

Superintendent of Schools

Being graduated from high school in our time is not only a privilege, but a necessity. In a sense, you have earned the first requisite of recognition, in our society - the high school diploma. This does not mean, however, that we have been given a license to do as we please and to depend upon the world as a place which owes us a living. On the other hand, it is a privilege which leads us into various activities in life for which we accept the responsibility for ourselves, our actions, and our decisions. It opens a whole new world to our talents and our imagination. We can do with it what we, ourselves, will. No one else can do it for us. The vistas before us are as endless as the horizon and they are begging to be conquered by the goodness and abilities of man.

You, the Class of 1966, find yourselves in a world in which the most constant element is change. If you are to be successful, you will be adaptable, to change. You will be called upon to re-educate yourself three or four times. To live in a state of flux demands an inquiring and adaptive mind. Man's relationship with each other will increase in importance. Communications have made the world as small as our own neighborhood. Understanding, patience, generosity, and kindness among all people will be the order of the day. It takes an educated man to practice these things.

The Class of 1966 of Salisbury High School is unique in another respect. It is the last graduating class from Salisbury High School. The change of this school to a vocational-technical center is indicative of the forces which now affect education. You have been an asset to your school. Your memories of your school will be special and historic. To each of you, as you enter a world of new opportunities, I wish the utmost success. I believe you will play your part in making the future a better world in which to live.

Best wishes and personal regards,

Royd A. Mahaffey

In Retrospect

The first school for colored on the Eastern Shore was a log cabin. It was built in 1838 on John Wesley Church property at Broad and Ellen Streets, with the people of the community as its sponsors. This "on the hill school" served the people of Salisbury and near communities for more than twenty-five years.

After the Civil War, the Board of Education built a six room, two-story school on Commerce Street near the railroad. As the enrollment increased classes had to be held in churches and portable "shack" buildings for forty some years.

In 1912, the school board leased a six room factory storage building on Railroad Avenue near the gas plant. In 1919, the eleventh grade was added; and in 1926 the fourth grade; also in that year there were four graduates.

In 1928, the lease ran out on the factory storage building and could not be released. Our P.T.A. along with seventeen other community P.T.A.'s purchased the Lake Street property for $5500.00. The deed was given to the school board and they built Salisbury Elementary School which also housed the high school. This building was completed in November, 1930 and our elementary and high school classes moved in from the five churches: John Wesley, St. Paul, First Baptist, St. James, St. Luke and the Elks Home. This new school was not large enough so we had three portable buildings erected on the property.

In 1945, the adult agriculture night class suggested that the agriculture students needed a farm for their project work. The Board of Education agreed and again eighteen P.T.A.'s of Wicomico County were in support. These P.T.A.'s cooperatively purchased and in six months with payments of $7500.00 paid for fourteen and a-half acres of farmland which included a five-room house and four other farm buildings. The Board of Education soon bought a peach orchard to the north of the farm and to the south of Morris Street. Eight years later on March 15, 1953, Salisbury High School was completed and we moved into it immediately. We had a faculty of twenty-four teachers, eight hundred forty-five students, seven cafeteria workers, one nurse and four custodians.

Today in 1966, we have a faculty of fifty-two teachers, a student body of nine hundred twelve, eight cafeteria workers, one nurse, three secretaries and eight custodians. Salisbury High School was evaluated in 1957 with honor and much praise as an "A" number high school by a committee of outstanding educators from Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey.

Salisbury High has always been known as a high standard high school; it has well-prepared, efficient and capable faculty and administration personnel. Salisbury High School has many times won first place honors by their athletic teams, chorus, band, N.H.A., F.T.A., dramatics clubs, debating clubs, science and math clubs, and art clubs. Its graduates have graduated with high honors from colleges and universities - both large and small with ratings of good, very good and excellent.

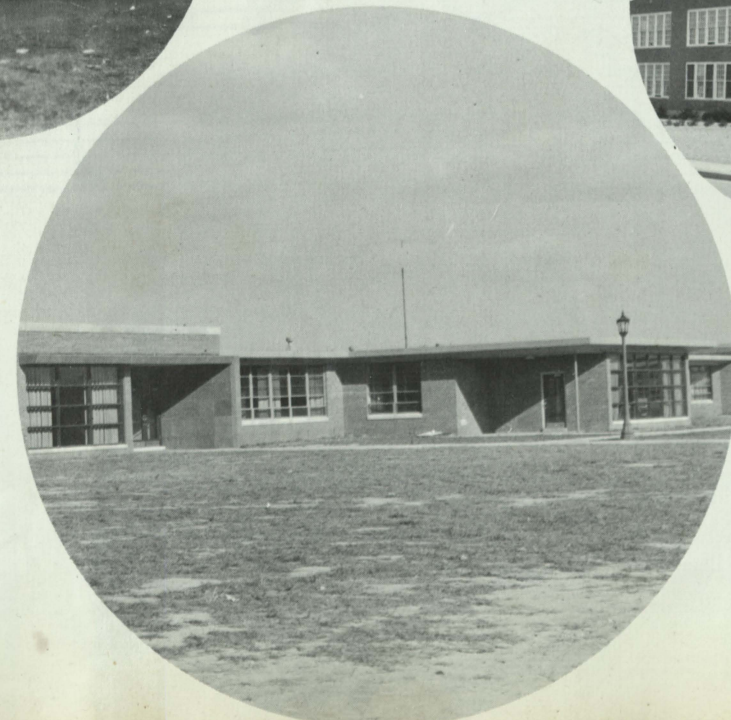

Today Salisbury High School graduates can be listed as successful in all professions and trades as: business administrators, principals, college deans, high school and college personnel, teachers, doctors, lawyers, dentists, engineers, mechanics, speakers, writers, public officials, professional athletes, confidential government personnel, electricians, plumbers, scientists and more.

And suddenly tomorrow is today. The above magnificent record speaks for the great and wonderful work that has been accomplished by the faculty, students and graduates of Salisbury High School. This school may pass out of existence (as it will after this year, for it will be developed into an intensive vocational school); but the educational image that this great institution has made will never fade in the memory of this county, state and nation, in fact the world where our graduates have gone.

"Progress through education and industry will never die. Its torches will forever give guiding light to our pathways and our future."

Class History

In this - the "Era of the Spy Mystery", the "Supreme Scholar" has given "Super Spy-0066 (Double-O-Sixty-Six)" the very important and dangerous mission of ushering the SHS Class of '66 to the extremely vital and difficult-to-attain, super-secret degree - "Code named - DIPLOMA". Back in 1960 when the "Super Scholar" dubbed "0066" with this order his final words were: "0066, use all your skill and cunning in achieving this goal; the precarious fate of this problem-laden world might well depend on it."

The great "0066" has had extreme difficulty with this mission. Great powers of evil and failure have hampered his progress. But in 1963, just as the great evil power - D.E.V.I.L. was about to consume the class of '66. Lawrence Howard lifted the entire class beyond the grasp of this evil through his second-place performance in the Optimists Oratorical Contest. That year Sharon Jones and Bernard Purnell attended a traffic safety convention at the University of Maryland. "0066" inspired them in the Engineering Questionnaire while there; as a result Governor J. Millard Tawes congratulated Bernard for placing second in the state. Frank Gordy entered the American Cancer Society's Essay Contest. Two months later, "0066" and Governor Tawes presented congratulations on his placing first in the state. Ralph Dennis won a summer school scholarship to Norfolk State College. Lawrence Howard became the last sophomore in SHS History to become Student Council President; Cynthia Camper, another Sophomore, became Vice-President.

In the junior year of the class, many evil organizations: W. E. A. K., L. A. Z. Y., D. U. M. B., and F. A. I. L., initiated tremendous drivers to crush the class. Each time, our hero - "0066" selected the members of the class best qualified to suppress the destructive powers, bent upon halting the progress of humanity. Robert Dashiell represented SHS at the State Science Symposium in Baltimore, where "0066" had him rub shoulders with another Super Agent of Freedom - Rev. Martin Luther King. The entire class sponsored a tremendous magazine campaign to make a smashing success of their Jr. - Sr. Prom of 1965 - called "Tender is the Night". Cynthia Camper was selected from the Jr. Class to attend Girls State at the University of Maryland.

Calvin Austin received a summer school scholarship to Morgan State College; Cecelia White received the same to Norfolk State College. Robert Dashiell and Frank Gordy, respectively, placed first and second in Wicomico County on United States History Tests. Ellis Collins and Stella Jones received school honors in Art.

Kenneth Price earned a letter for baseball; Willie Phillips and Louis Finney for basketball; Willie Phillips, Phiel Bishop, Nathan Cornish, Donald Hardy, and Kenneth R. Price for football. Bernard Purnell, Kenneth R. Price, and Frank Gordy for cross-country; Bernard Purnell, Nathaniel Savage, and Frank Gordy for track and field. The Mile Relay team of Bishop-Morton-Waters-Gordy set District records until a fourth place finish at the State Meet. Nathaniel Savage won a fourth place state ribbon in the 2-mile event. Frank Gordy brought home the only medal for his 440-yard dash - Gold for First. In 1965, the class of '66 set four school athletic records: mile relay, 440-yard dash, triple jump, and pole vault. Two of these: mile relay, triple jump and 440-yard dash were district records. Looking back on the athletic skills which exemplify strength "0066" sighed to think that these young people were not yet seniors.

The Senior year was most demanding upon the resources of "0066", for this year the evil powers L. A. S. T. and C. H. A. N. C. E. merged to form the ultimate force G. O. O. D. - B. Y. E. - M. A. Y. B. E. Half the Super agent's time was spent in whispering into ears during Senior Exams and teaching how to cross fingers effectively. Those who needed no whispering, he sent on to greater things. Robert Dashiell and Cynthia Camper attended the All-State Chorus at the University of Maryland. Lynette Parsons, Ingrid Hull, Sharon Jones, Renee Purnell, Patricia Garland, Ellis Collins, Shirley Elzey, Frank Gordy, Stanford Laws, Joshua Taylor, Edith Coulbourne, Louis Finney, Robert Dashiells, and Bertha Price worked diligently to compile the outstanding '66 yearbook. Frank Gordy was recognized by Congressman Rogers C. B. Morton for application as a congressional page.

In the Senior Play, a brilliant rendition of Lorraine Hansberry's "A Raisin In the Sun". Ellis Collins, Rebecca Eure, Maxine Smith, Shirley Elsey, Lawrence Howard, Charles Henry, Alexander Brown and Robert Copes, Robert Dashiell and Frank Gordy demonstrated their dramatic skills.

Being the great hero he is, "0066" sought to build an element of kindness and charity in the class. The success of this aspect was proven during the Christmas Season when 12B Class altruistically sacrificed their money and school time for parties to buy and present Christmas baskets to the local nursing home. "0066" is very proud of 12B; for it was his good force in defeating a small evil organization called G. R. E. E. D.

To build the all around citizen, "0066" has tutored the seniors in physical ability. This teaching proved eminent as several seniors were outstanding in sports during the first semester of the year. Phiel Bishop, Nathaniel Savage, Willie Phillips, Kenneth B. Price, Nathan Cornish and Donald Hardy in football; John Grady, Bernard Purnell, Frank Gordy and Kenneth R. Price in cross-country; Willie Phillips, John Grady, Bernard Purnell, and Louis Finney in basketball.

Now "0066" is growing weary, but he is exultant to see that his efforts are well rewarded. The class of '66 is growing less and less dependent on him for guidance. He will still be around for final examinations and awards day. But he is confident that the class of '66 will glory towards graduation in June, and contribute much to improve the perilous-condition of society. He does not know that the class has plans to show their devout appreciation for his dedicated efforts. He is not aware that the class will go on to produce productive citizens in our society. But he is quite confident that they will, for he has watched them grow into the determined, mature, and sober individuals, so necessary in fulfilling his ultimate mission. As the words of the "Supreme Scholar" echo in his ears, "the fate of the world may depend on the success of your mission;" and as he muses in his confidence, he realizes that he now has time to rest. The class of '66 has crushed all the Powers of Failure. And so certain that he will rise to see his class glorified in obtaining that super-secret degree "DIPLOMA" in June - the Hero sleeps.

In "65" we came back to school with a yearning lust,
 Searching for more knowledge and strength.
 With lots of home work, you welcome us,
 Your classroom doors stretched out at length.

We began attending high school in our seventh year.
 Young, brilliant, courageous, and eager to learn.
 And with the instructions of our teachers, so dear,
 We studied hard for the credit we earned.

From the eighth year to the twelfth
 Our lives have been worth-while,
 For guidance in itself
 Has enabled us to look over the past and smile.

We, the class of "66", promise never to go astray,
 But be the citizens you desire.
 For in your teaching we have found the way,
 To be the outstanding personalities you'll always admire.

Now the high school days with you have ended
 And from you, we must now depart,
 But we'll never forget this grand school we attended
 Salisbury Hi, you will always be in our hearts.

This class of nineteen hundred and sixty-six
 Are leaving you with heavy hearts, tear-filled eyes,
 For the faculty and friends we will miss
 As we bid you all GOOD-BY.

Girls' State

At Girls' State girls are given the opportunity to participate in the ways and means of politics in city, state, and national government. In the span of a few days the girls showed appreciation of our American Heritage and were given a chance to measure one citizen, alone in government.

This was a chance for outstanding young women to gain practical experience that could never be learned in a textbook.

Scenes From the Senior Play

Maxine Smith, playing the part of Lena Younger, reflects genuine contentment as she explains their poor-living conditions to her grandson, Wesley Brickous who vividly portrayed the part of Travis Younger. Ellis Collins, Mary Elzey and Shirley Elzey happily listen to the explanation of their plight.

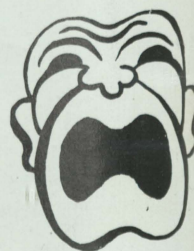

Ellis Collins, as Walter Lee Younger, has the right idea toward making his little son, Travis, played by Wesley Brickous, understand the essence of a father's comforting arms.

An expression of what happens to a dream deferred on the faces of Maxine Smith and Ellis Collins.

Ellis Collins and Shirley Elzey shows how contentment can be found through understanding one another---vividly expressed.

Scenes From the Senior Play

Ellis Collins, as the ambitious Walter Lee Younger jokingly tells Lawrence Howard, as Karl Linder exactly his position on moving into their exclusive neighborhood, while Mary Eure, as high strung, dogmatic Beneatha Younger listens sarcastically.

The senior class of 1966 exploded again with the provocative, "A RAISIN IN THE SUN" by the late Lorraine Hansberry. Members of the cast included - STANDING from left to right: Wesley Brickous, Travis Younger; Ellis Collins, Walter Lee Younger; Charles Henry, George Murchison; Alexander Brown, Joseph Asagai; Lawrence Howard, Karl Linder; Russell Fooks, Sound devices; SITTING - left to right: Shirley Elzey, Ruth Younger; Maxine Smith, Lena Younger; and Mary Eure, Beneatha Younger; Not pictured are Robert Copes, Bobo; and Mr. David Johnson Jr., Director.

To an outsider, sports mean games and excitement and cheering. But, in the students' life, sports mean even more than that. They mean long hours of tiresome practice, high hopes and sometimes the lonely feeling of defeat as well as victory. To other students and to teachers sports mean watching and rooting for good friends and working to show the best your school has to offer.

Alma Mater

Dear old Salisbury High we love you.

We love to sing thy praise,

And we'll do our best to serve you

Through all our high school days.

We are very proud to claim thee

To be our very own

And we'll strive our best to make thee

Our everlasting home.

And if when our days are over

And we must from thee part

We'll continue thus to serve you

For you'll stay on our hearts.

CHORUS

Salisbury we love thee true

And this we'll always do.

As long as we're united

We'll serve and love thee too.
